Core Mission/Our Objectives

- Short term
 - Promote awareness about CARG and its offerings and build engagement among cancer and aging researchers already in the choir (within Year 1)
- Mid-term and Long-term
 - Build the leadership/communications capacity of CARG researchers
 - Recruit new investigators to the field
 - Engage individual institutions and national groups critical to sustainability (NIH, etc.)
 - Reframe how the broader (cancer) world views aging

Core Functions

- Develop an outreach infrastructure and effort to alert current investigators in (and beyond) the choir of what CARG is offering
 - Publicize to broader oncology world through ASCO, ACS, JAGS, etc.
 - Leverage positions of infrastructure grant leaders within committees across oncology
 - e.g., William Dale (ASCO Communications Committee)
- Build junior (and senior) investigators' capacity to serve as 'an army' of communicators about CARG and cancer and aging. How to...
 - Build a social media presence
 - Develop a press release
 - Develop graphics, visual abstracts, etc.
 - Communicate with leadership at your institution
- Support CARG sustainability strategy

Work Flow

- Establish core CARG communications vehicles – website, e-newsletter, webinars, Facebook group
- Build a CARG social media presence
 - Have dedicated staff to maintain #SoMe presence
 - Join existing groups on Facebook, promote CARG events
- Create new and/or identify existing resources to build CARG members communications capacity
 - Tools, templates, workshops, seminars.
- Consider developing a virtual learning collaborative.
 - Different from WebEx – here members can log in and contribute to ongoing forum-based interface at their own convenience.

Policies and Procedures

- Manage/triage inquiries for various core services and ensure support
- Clarify cost/charge for core services as part of value proposition for CARG offerings (folks should pay, also include in pilot grants?)
- Ensure there is a formal structure to obtain feedback from mentors and mentees of services rendered and needs not met.

Sustainability

- Engage established organizations: ASCO, AGS, GSA, etc. to provide in-kind support, maintain resources (i.e. our social media presence or website), and build broader awareness
- Develop value propositions for each group—why should they support us? What can we provide that others can't?
- Ensure that services/support to CARG pilot grantees are supported by grantee host organizations
- Partner in particular with both aging societies and cancer groups.
- Consider turning CARG into a nonprofit and look to foundations, philanthropists, etc.
